Rugby website: <http://www.citadel.edu/icra/clubsports/teams/rugbym/rugbymen.html>

Application Deadline: No set deadline, best to apply before Christmas

Admissions Contact: Major Jeff Price, jeff.price@citadel.edu, w (843) 953-5230

Scholarship opportunities: Open to all incoming freshmen, each application serves as a general scholarship application.

Admission consideration opportunities: The Citadel ranks No. 3 nationally among public colleges and universities in our Carnegie classification in the percentage of students who graduate in four years. That category includes colleges with master's level programs. The latest data shows that 62.4% of entering freshmen graduated from The Citadel within four years. The national average four-year graduation rate is about 30%. The Citadel leads South Carolina public colleges and universities in its four-year graduation rate. The U.S. News & World Report rankings for 2009 recognize The Citadel in several different categories:

- The Citadel is the No. 2 best public college in the South for institutions offering master's degree.
- No. 5 among the best public and private universities in the South offering up to a master's degree but few, if any, doctoral programs.
- The School of Engineering ranked No. 34 for best undergraduate engineering programs in the nation.
- No. 7 best value among institutions in the South
- The Citadel is a teaching college with a student-faculty ratio of 15 to 1 with highly qualified faculty teaching all classes.

The Citadel, the only specialized four-year public college in South Carolina, has been designated as an essential Military College, and its ROTC detachments are authorized to offer commissions in the Army, Air Force, Marine Corps, or Navy. An average of 30 percent of graduating cadets are commissioned into military service following graduation.

Describe your program, facilities, commitment expectations, and any other details you think relevant:

The men's team was formed in 1974 and is one of the oldest college teams in the South. We compete in friendly matches in the fall and within the South and USA Rugby competition structure in the Spring.

As a club, practices are three times a week in the afternoon from 4 pm – 6 pm. Weight training and additional conditioning is on an individual or unit basis (forwards, backs) outside of scheduled practice times. Cadets are expected to place academics first and foremost in their life, but we place a high priority on balancing their academics and military commitments with our team program. Practices are a mix of games designed to improve individual skills, build cohesive units and form a well-rounded, disciplined team with players that have the courage to make decisions and create opportunities. We value skill, determination and the willingness to try new things and make mistakes over highly structured play. We back this up with a sound instruction on Laws and the spirit of rugby that fits well with our leadership and values training at The Citadel.

The coaching staff works hard to make each training session rewarding and to teach our students about rugby. However, since practice time is short students are encouraged to study the laws of rugby and how the game is played outside of practice. We often take time to watch matches, review articles and ideas about the sport but each player should show the self discipline to learn about the game on their own as well. The Citadel Men have consistently done well in the South as a Division III side. We placed 2nd in the East Coast Division III National Championships in 2006. Although having one of the smallest student bodies in USA Rugby South we plan on moving to Division II in the next few years.

Rugby program details: Facilities, commitment, etc: Thank you for looking into Eastern Washington University. Now that you're preparing to move on from high school, we'd like to invite you to attend Eastern Washington University and continue playing rugby at the collegiate level. Eastern has both a men's and women's team that compete in Division II collegiate leagues.

The EWURFC was formed in 2003 and has rapidly developed into a well respected program. Our team is coached formally and practices regularly. Practices consist of drills, scrimmages and team workouts including cardiovascular conditioning as well as strength building. If you choose to join us at Eastern, come prepared. This is a serious team widely recognized as a regional powerhouse. The EWURFC is undoubtedly the premiere DII collegiate team in the Northwest.

In addition to having a phenomenal training regime, our school has the nicest pitch out of any DII school in Washington. Complete with permanent dedicated rugby uprights, our lighted field is the pride of Eastern. Plans in the future include installing turf on the field and securing permanent bleachers for our fans. In addition to our field, we have an NCAA field-house facility where our team is able to practice in the winter months.

Here at Eastern we are committed to the development, education, and well-being of our students as well as the advancement of rugby in the northwest. We hope that you'll join us and challenge yourself as an Eastern Eagle and a member of the EWURFC.

Scholarship and Admission opportunities: Hamilton College is a small liberal arts college located in central New York

Hamilton College has an SAT optional policy that allows for the ACT or other standardized tests to be considered for admissions.

Hamilton offers need-based financial aid, with the average award package of $32,580. Hamilton also participates in the HEOP and POSSE opportunity programs.

Rugby program details: Facilities, commitment, etc: We are in the New York State Premier Division 1 league, and play matches against schools like Syracuse and Cornell.

We have great support from the Athletic Department which grants us the funds needed to travel to tournaments in the spring.

As a competitive team, we practice 4 times a week, and often have days for conditioning, but as a club sport, we are flexible. If you need to miss a practice, we can work with it.

All games are played on Minor Field, and have great fan support.

For questions about the program, feel free to contact Coach Amanda Benoit at mandilu41@aol.com or club President Lesley Ryder at lyder@hamilton.edu

Rugby program details: Facilities, commitment, etc: LSWR was founded in 2002 by an intrepid group of young women. Since the fall of 2004 LSWR has advanced to the EPRU playoffs every year. In 2006 LSWR came in second place in the D-IV competition, earning promotion to D-III. In 2007 we repeated the feat by finishing second in D-III, earning the right to compete in the D-II competition. 2008/2009 saw the team reach new heights, as we qualified for the D-II USA Rugby National Playoffs, finishing top 12 in the country. LSWR members have successfully represented the club as part of the EPRU U23 team, MARFU U23 team, Atlantis 7s team and have been selected for All American Honors.

The three pillars of our mission statement; community, development and competition, describe our unique rugby culture. A culture that embraces former varsity athletes, those with high school rugby experience and those who have never played sports, with equal vigor.

La Salle Women's Rugby is based out of La Salle's Campus Recreation.

Campus Recreation generously supports the team and provides transportation for most away games, access to facilities for practice/games/events and budgets for both team operations and the coaching staff.

We play all of our home matches at McCarthy Stadium. The Sprinturf field allows us to play in almost any weather conditions. The stadium also features seating for 7,500 fans, lighting and changing rooms.

Molloy College (Men's and Women's Rugby Clubs)

Name of Coach or primary contact: Brendan Droge

Email of Coach or primary contact: bdroge@molloy.edu

Phone numbers coach or primary contact: (516) 678-5000 ext. 6751 (work), (516) 236-2111 (cell)

Public/Private: Private

Campus Setting (Urban/suburban): Suburban

Number of Undergraduates enrolled: 2,800

Average SAT score: 1000 (math and critical reading score combined)

Average ACT score: 21 (composite score)

Tuition cost: $20,000

Room and Board costs: N/A as Molloy does not have dorms, the college has plans to build them in the next year or two. In the meantime, we will help students find an apartment in the area.

School web address: www.molloy.edu

Rugby Club website address: <http://www.molloy.edu/student/rugby/index.asp>

Application Deadline: Molloy has rolling admissions so there is no deadline.

Scholarship opportunities: I work as a Senior Admissions Counselor and Adjunct Math Professor at the college so I can help with this process. Molloy offers scholarships for academics and community service work that student's have done.

Admission consideration opportunities: The Admissions Committee looks for its prospective students to have a solid "B" average (somewhere in the 80's) and a 1000 SAT/21 ACT score (math and critical reading sections combined). They'd also like to see that the student was involved in extracurricular activities at his or her high school. The requirements for transfer students vary based on their major of interest, I can help with this process.

Describe your program, facilities, commitment expectations, and any other details you think relevant:

Our men's program was founded in 2005 and our women's in 2008. Despite Molloy College's small size, the rugby clubs are by far the most popular organizations on campus. Our matches, even in comparison to on-campus basketball games, get larger crowds. As it is a club sport, we understand if players miss a practice or match here and there, but myself and the other coach (Scott Salvato) run it as a varsity sport. We practice twice a week, but expect players to workout on their own on a daily basis. Our home matches are played on a beautifully lined field on campus. Both myself and coach Salvato work on campus making it easy for players to get in touch with us.

Aside from our National Guard affiliation, we are sponsored by a local chiropractic firm who gives our player's discounts for treatment; they also attend all of our home matches and stretch the players before the match. In addition, the college's dance team performs during halftime of matches and a local bagpipe band leads our players onto the field at all home matches.

Rugby program details: Facilities, commitment, etc: Penn Women's Rugby is a club sport governed completely by its members. As a part of the Eastern Pennsylvania Rugby Union, we compete inter-collegiately, at the D-3 level, in both the fall and the spring. In addition to being competitive, we are quite social group, and we tend to think of ourselves not just as a team, but also as a family. On that note, new players are ALWAYS welcome, NO experience necessary. We are always looking for prospective ruggers; if you are interested in checking out our club, feel free to contact one of the officers or by emailing our google group pennrugby@googlegroups.com.

Rugby program details: Facilities, commitment, etc: The GSU Women's Rugby Club is a competitive team that recently won the New York State Rugby Division II West division.

We are a hard working group of girls that train under a wonderful and dedicated coach.

Many of us had never played rugby before college, so we are more than willing to teach anyone how to play!

We almost always field a B-side game, so everyone gets a chance to play.

We do not host tryouts, but dedication and hard work is required!

In the fall, we practice five days a week, and have a game on Saturday. In the fall, we have practice four days a week and compete in tournaments.

Please, feel free to ask any questions if you're interested!

Scholarship and Admission opportunities: West Virginia University offers 185 degree programs, making your possibilities nearly limitless. New programs continue to be added as the University adapts to the current needs of our students and the ever-changing job market. Many majors result in extremely high job placement rates (for example, nursing = 100%, mining engineering = 100%, pharmacy = 100%).

Numerous scholarship opportunities exist for out of state students who apply by February 1st. Specific focus is given to rugby players for these scholarships. Visit http://www.arc.wvu.edu/Scholars_Office/out_of_state.html

for more information on the specific requirements to get these scholarships or just contact the coach listed above. Also note that while 2/1/2010 is the general application deadline for scholarships, WVU operates on a rolling admissions schedule. We work closely with the recruiters and admissions counselors to ensure that your needs are taken care of.

Rugby program details: Facilities, commitment, etc: WVU Women's Rugby disbanded sometime in the mid 80's and reformed in 2000. Playing in the Allegheny Rugby Union, part of the Midwest Rugby Territory, the program has flourished appearing in the Midwest Sweet 16 4 times, the Midwest Elite 8 twice and the Final Four once. We continue to play top level competition in our area including National Champion Penn State University, Virginia Tech, Maryland and other Division 1 programs. We also travel a great deal most recently being crowned champions of the College Division in the 2009 Mardi Gras Tournament.

Our Facilities include a multi-million dollar recreational facility (<http://studentrecenter.wvu.edu/>), dedicated practice field and indoor gym facilities during the winter months. We also have athletic trainers at every home match and at nearly every away match that are donated by the athletic training department. Most recently, Club Sports, were given 1.5million dollars to build new field spaces by 2010 - 2011.

The team practices 3 times a week and plays their matches primarily on Saturday or Sunday. The current roster fields 37 players.
